FINAL x FINAL: Ep 3

WHAT'S THE BIGGEST RISK YOU TOOK AT UNI?

SARAH: I think the biggest risk I took at uni was deciding to go on a study tour to Europe. A lot of my friends were going on another study tour to India, so I knew no one else that was going on this study tour, and I decided that I wanted to go to Europe instead.

SARAH: I got to go to Google I got to go to Facebook it sort of just gave me that independence of like "oh my god, I can travel overseas by myself".

DREW: I applied for the New Climate Plan Scholarship two years in a row and the first time I didn't get it obviously. The New Climate Plan Scholarship is one of the most prestigious, difficult to achieve scholarships that an Australian university student can hope for.

DREW: To spend so long working on my applications, and then to get it, was a really tremendous feeling. Even if COVID then did immediately mean that I couldn't do my trip.

TANYA: The biggest risk I took at uni was probably going on exchange, that was so scary at the start, I was freaking out. My god it was the best experience of my life.

That's so bad... that's so bad!
